Digital Montage

I create bold, surreal digital montages featuring bright colors and dark trees. The emphasis on color, line, and texture is designed to invoke a particular feeling or mood. These pieces usually start with an original acrylic painting or monotype print on canvas or paper, which is scanned to digitize it, and an original digital photograph. I then use a variety of tools and techniques to combine and enhance the different elements, forming something new. This process is done on a computer, but never uses any AI in any capacity.
